

I am very much AGAINST the relaxing of rules that will allow giant corporations to have a monopoly over the dissemination of the news. This would have serious consequences and would be another assault on our personal rights to information. "When commerce is influenced by art there is diversity and freedom and creativity. When art is ruled by commerce everything becomes the same."